

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

Hon. Thomas R. Marshall, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—I have the honor to herewith submit for your examination the report of the Auditor of State for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1912, giving in detail the fiscal affairs of the State, with an elaborate showing of receipts and disbursements and exhaustive tabulations reviewing abstracts of county duplicates and settlements; valuable data, associated with tax levies, duplicates, and all features associated with the assessment, collection and disposition of public revenues. I have also submitted extended reports of the insurance, land, building association, banking and trust bureaus, with suggestions as provided by statute, that in my judgment would be of benefit to the people in strengthening the laws to the efficiency of these agencies of public utility.

SPECIAL BENEFIT AMENDMENT.

Disability Protection.

After one full annual payment shall have been made upon policy Number _____ of the Indianapolis Life Insurance Company, issued on the life of _____, and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, prior to attaining the age of sixty years, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an indorsement in writing upon said policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on the attached policy, and the cash loans and the values of the policy in the schedule as given therein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premium shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premium in accordance with the provisions of said policy on the first premium due date following such recovery.

This amendment is issued in consideration of the payment of twenty-five cents per thousand of insurance, which is included in the premium named on the face of the policy to which this is attached.

On any anniversary of the policy, this provision may be canceled by the insured, in which event the premium in the face of the policy shall be reduced by the premium charged for the protection covered by this amendment, and such reduction will be endorsed on said policy.

The foregoing provisions are hereby made a part of said policy above mentioned.

In witness whereof, the Indianapolis Life Insurance Company has caused this provision to be signed by its president and secretary, at its office, in the city of Indianapolis, Indiana, this _____ day of _____, 19____.

Does the company issue contracts providing benefits for total, permanent or partial disability?

Answer.—Yes.

Answer.—Yes. The insured, in case of total and permanent disability, may select one of the following options:

Option 1. One-twentieth of the commuted amount payable under this policy will be paid in cash to the insured immediately upon satisfactory proof of such disability, and a like amount upon each succeeding anniversary, until twenty annual payments shall have been made; or,

Option 2. The company will pay all premiums thereafter becoming due on this contract; and in such event, the cash, loan and other values shall increase in the same manner, as if the premiums were paid by the insured.

Disability Conditions: The agreement on the first page of this policy as to options 1 and 2, is subject to the following conditions:

The insured must become totally and permanently disabled while this policy is in full force and effect after one full annual premium has been paid and prior to default in the payment of any subsequent premium or installment thereof and before the insured attains the age of 60 years, and the disability must be such that there is neither then, nor at any time thereafter, any work, occupation, or profession that the insured can ever sufficiently do, or follow, to earn, or obtain any wages, compensation, or profit, and immediately after the happening of such disability full particulars thereof must be given to the company, in writing, at its home office, and prior to any liability on the part of the company under either of said options satisfactory proofs of such disability must be given to the company at its home office, upon blanks furnished by the company, and the policy must be produced to the company, at its home office, and the agreement to pay the installments of the face of the policy or the premium must be endorsed by the company thereon in writing.

If, however, the insured should so far recover, as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the obligation on the part of the company to pay the remainder of the installments or the premiums shall immediately cease and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums beginning with the first premium becoming due after the date of such recovery. Proofs similar to those required in the first instance must be furnished of such continuous disability prior to the payment of such installment or premium by the company, if demanded.

The payment of twenty installments is in lieu of the payment of the face of this policy at the death of the insured, and should the insured die before all installments have been paid the remaining installments will be paid in like manner to the beneficiary herein named, provided that the holder of the policy accepting the option of installment payments shall not be required to pay any premium after the permanent disability arises and such option is accepted.

If the insured should become disabled as hereinbefore described, after attaining the age of 60 years, said insured may have the benefit of Option 2, subject to the terms and conditions herein governing the same, with the modification that instead of being paid by the company the premium will be allowed to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness against the policy.

justice between the counties as requires the action of this Board.

Our action upon the subject of equalizing the assessments of the counties is, by statute, confined to the raising or lowering of the assessment of all the personal property of one or more of the counties. Nine-tenths of the taxes raised in each county is consumed in the county, and the important thing in the matter of equalization is to have equal assessments within the county. If we should raise or lower the assessment in any county, we would probably do more injustice between the taxpayers of that county than we would gain in the attempt to equalize between the counties. Be it further

Resolved, That as each county has represented that the people of the county are satisfied with the local assessment made this year, we deem it to be our duty to let the local assessment of personal property stand as made by the local authorities.

That all revenue officers comply with the law, and all violations thereof be punished, and that all proper suggestions as to amendments and changes may be made. (3 Burns R. S. 1908, Sec. 10291.)

OFFICE OF THE STATE BOARD OF TAX COMMISSIONERS,

INDIANAPOLIS, December 1, 1912.

To the Sixty-Eighth General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

The State Board of Tax Commissioners respectfully submits for your consideration, the following biennial report as required by law:

REVIEW OF TAX LEGISLATION OF OTHER STATES.

In compliance with the mandate of the statute and to better qualify themselves for the performance of their duties, the commissioners have carefully followed the tax and revenue legislation of other States, and have made extensive study of, and inquiry concerning, the practical operation of methods of taxation in foreign jurisdictions.

The board has expended considerable effort to gather together and keep up to date, all the tax laws and official tax reports of all the States of the Union and the provinces of Canada.

Since our last report, two annual national tax conferences have been held under the auspices of the International Tax Association, the meeting of 1911 being held at Richmond, Virginia, and that of 1912 at Des Moines, Iowa.

These conferences annually bring together practically all of the tax commissioners of the various States of the Union, with numerous representatives of the leading universities and colleges of the country, together with many persons interested in the subject of taxation.

The object of these conferences is to promote uniformity and equality in taxation and the study of problems in taxation. The programs of these meetings cover such a wide variety of topics that it would be impracticable to give a review of them here, but some of the conclusions arrived at and recommendations made will be referred to later in this report.

NEW TAX LEGISLATION.

Notwithstanding taxation is co-existent with organized society, and is the oldest governmental problem, no system has ever been devised which is satisfactory. No two States of the Union have the same scheme for the raising of revenues, and in most instances there is such a diversity, even in fundamental principles, that there can be no comparison. The most noticeable thing about this is that no State seems to be satisfied with the system that it now has, and that innumerable new schemes are being proposed and adopted involving legislative and even constitutional changes.

While many of these new ideas possess more or less merit, the most of them simply change taxation statutes from a state of disorder to that of chaos. A large proportion contain the fundamental defect of lack of appreciation of the difference between theory and practice in taxation. Such a difference exists to a greater degree than in any other governmental function. This lack of practicability of schemes which are theoretically correct has driven many students of taxation to turn in despair to the Utopian dream of the single taxers.

There has been a growing tendency in recent years to get away from the general property tax as applied to personal property, and to substitute therefor excise, occupational, registry and specific taxes of an almost infinite variety. Other States have sought a remedy in centralizing power and authority in State boards, so that assessments would not be influenced or controlled by local influences.

OHIO'S NEW TAX LAW.

The most notable tax legislation of the last two years has been that of the State of Ohio. Contrary to the weight of present day authority, Ohio determined to retain the general property tax upon personal property, thereby incurring criticism which time only can demonstrate whether it is well founded.

The new Ohio law is similar to our law in many respects. A State board of tax commissioners, with wide powers was created. The most notable features of the law are the provisions requiring the assessment of all property at its true cash value, and the limiting of the tax levy for all purposes to one per centum. Under these provisions assessment values were tremendously increased, the assessment of real estate being raised from $1,656,944.631 in 1910, to $4,223,138,080 in 1911, while railroads were increased from $167,453,818 in 1910, to $571,281,620 in 1911.

The commission is also given jurisdiction to assess all banks and public utility companies.

TAXATION OF MONEYS AND CREDITS.

Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa, New York and other States have sought to solve the problem of the taxation of money and credits by either a low annual rate, or by a specific tax. The New York law, known as the "secured debt" law, charging a registry tax of five mills on bonds and securities and exempting them from further taxation. In Iowa, moneys and credits are placed in a special class and taxed at a uniform rate of five mills, while Minnesota has a similar tax of three mills, excepting upon mortgages and State and municipal bonds.

New Hampshire exempts money loaned at not exceeding five per cent., and secured by mortgage on real estate within the State.

Wisconsin has an income tax law carrying with it exemption of money and credits, stocks, household furniture and farm machinery. This law has been bitterly assailed and was the leading State issue in the recent campaign. No tax legislation of recent years has aroused greater criticism and opposition.

New Jersey has enacted a great deal of advanced legislation, practically remodeling its system of raising revenues. It amended its inheritance tax law in important particulars. There was also enacted a law supplementary to the "Forest Reserve" law of 1907, providing that the owners of fresh water lakes subject to acquisition by the State may grant free access to and free use of the waters of such lakes and thereby have such land exempted from taxation.

The Senate and General Assembly of New Jersey also passed a joint resolution providing for the appointment of a commission of five members to investigate the present tax laws and to recommend changes if found desirable.

Oklahoma has abolished township assessors and substituted therefor county assessors, whose compensation is graded according to the amount of the property he assesses, and from which compensation he must pay his deputies. The county commissioners are made a board of equalization with the county assessor as its secretary.

In North Carolina the corporation (tax) commission has been given authority to appoint the county assessors.

New Hampshire created a State tax commission in 1911, the members to be appointed by the Supreme Court and having terms of six years. The powers and duties of said commission are similar to those of the commission of this State.

Rhode Island created a State tax commission in 1912, investing it with jurisdiction to assess public utility, manufacturing, mercantile and other corporations, providing for a system of assessment of the corporate excess of such corporations, except banking corporations, by the State tax commission, and the assessment locally of their real estate and tangible personal property.

Bank stock, excepting savings banks, is to be assessed by the State tax commission and taxed at the uniform rate of forty cents for each $100 of such assessed valuation, being the same rate as other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens is assessed.

The law further provides for the taxation of the gross earnings of steamboat, ferry boat, steam railroads, street railways, dining, sleeping and parlor car; gas, electricity and water companies, of one per centum; telegraph and telephone companies at two per centum; express companies at three per centum.

TAX COMMISSIONS.

It will be noticed that the tendency of modern legislation is strongly toward centralized control of the administration of the revenue system.

Twenty-four States now have permanent tax commissions, while a number of other States have special tax commissions which will no doubt ultimately be made permanent.

Much of the new legislation is along the line of broadening the powers of tax commissions, increasing their jurisdiction as original boards of assessment, and giving them greater control over local administrative officers.

Nothing approaching uniformity of assessment can be attained under any system of taxation depending upon the discretion, integrity or efficiency of local assessing officials, unless there is some State official or board with broad enough supervisory powers to compel uniform assessments in the first instance, or to review and correct them after they have been made.

The language of the Indiana statute enjoins upon the State Board of Tax Commissioners the duty "to see that all assessments of property in this State are made according to law," but this is merely declaratory, and as a matter of fact the board is saddled with a duty without the means of performing it.

UNIFORMITY OF ASSESSMENT.

The constitution requires that "The General Assembly shall provide, by law, for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation," and the General Assembly has directed that all property shall be assessed at its true cash value. For the purpose of enabling the State Board to enforce equality of assessments among the different counties, it is vested with authority to increase or decrease the assessment of property by classes only, the classes being railroad property, lands, town and city lots and personal property. The class denominated "personal property" includes an immense variety of taxable property such as merchandise stocks, manufactories, banks, moneys, secured and unsecured debts, farm products and machinery, household goods, etc.

It may well happen, and in actual practice does happen, every year, that there is a shocking lack of uniformity in the assessment of various items of personal property in the same county, and between the same items of personal property as between different counties.

Under the law the State Board has no way of correcting such inequality. The only thing that it can do is to increase or decrease the valuation of the entire class denominated personal property, thus perpetuating the ratio of disparity.

A good example of this evil is the assessment of banks, and we take banks as an example not because they suffer more than other kinds of property, but because they furnish, perhaps, the most conspicuous illustration of this kind of discrimination.

The State directs that bank stocks shall be assessed by the boards of review to the owner at the situs of the bank. The board of review of one county may assess the bank stocks of that county at 60 per cent. of their market value, while the board of review of an adjoining county may assess the bank stocks of that county at 85 per cent. of their market value. As a matter of fact the stocks of banks in this State are assessed at rates varying from 60 per cent. to 85 per cent., notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts of the State Board to bring about some degree of uniformity.

As this board can only increase or decrease the assessment of all personal property as a class, it follows that a large number of people justly assessed would be obliged to share the penalty of a few who were enjoying an unfair discrimination. Further than that an attempt to equalize would in some instances lead to a ridiculous result. It has actually happened that moneys and credits have been assessed at one hundred cents on the dollar, while bank stocks have been assessed at 65 per cent. of the cash value. In such a case, in order to reach the bank stocks it would be necessary to assess moneys at more than their face value.

As we have said banks are here used as an illustration because they are conspicuous and not because they are enjoying an unjust rate of assessment. We believe that banks should be assessed by the State Board, thus insuring a uniform and fair assessment.

Nearly all of the recent laws creating tax commissions in other States have empowered the State Board to order a reassessment in townships and counties where glaring inequalities exist, and some of such statutes authorize the State Board to equalize by individual classes of personal property. The proposition discussed here is a highly important one because it not only unjustly distributes the burden of taxation, upon different owners of the same class of property, but because it breeds contempt and disgust for laws which are so weak and impotent that they cannot enforce equality, even where there is no question of judgment or discretion involved, but only a question of simple addition and subtraction.

ASSESSING AT TRUE CASH VALUE.

The difficulties attending the attempt at uniformity of assessment are infinitely increased by the general disregard of the mandate of the statute, repeated in many places, that all property shall be assessed at its true cash value. Even statutes making it a criminal offense for a property owner to give in a false list, or for an assessing officer to assess at other than the true cash value have no terror for the one or the other. The property owner feels that through no fault of his he is compelled to choose between perjury and confiscation and he more or less cheerfully chooses that which he thinks has become right by custom.

When the present law was enacted in 1891, its author, a distinguished jurist yet living, intended that property should be assessed at its actual cash value, but adequate administrative machinery had not then been provided and the only chance to enforce the law, as written, was lost with the first assessment.

In the intervening twenty years, the State and its various taxing divisions, have adjusted their fiscal affairs to fit the present method of assessment, and without radical legislative changes it would be disastrous, at this time, to attempt to enforce full valuation. The sudden increase of 100 per cent. in the debt incurring power of municipalities, would result in such extravagance and disarrangement of financial affairs that the State might not recover in a generation.

Other States which are attempting to enforce full valuation provide safeguards in the way of a limited tax levy, as in Ohio, or spread the levy upon a minor percentage of the assessment returns as in Illinois.

THE GENERAL PROPERTY TAX.

The general property tax without full valuation is like a ship without a rudder. When it is left to the discretion of each individual assessing officer, as to what percentage of its full value he will assess various items of property, there will be as many kinds of assessments as there are assessing officers. Under our constitution, it is doubtful if any substitute could be adopted for the general property tax. Thirty-three States still retain this ad valorem system, but it is being abandoned as rapidly as constitutional amendments can be made, and it is well to keep it in mind so that the whole subject may be treated intelligently and effectively as soon as possible.

ADMINISTRATION OF TAX LAWS.

While our system is regarded as archaic, it is one of the best of its kind. As before noted the inherent defect of such a system is the difficulty arising out of its administration. That no administrative machinery can be devised which will cure this defect is the unanimous judgment of practically every economist and tax expert who has ever expressed an opinion on the subject.

This difficulty becomes more pronounced as financial and industrial conditions become more complex. Property owners sequester their personal property to a large extent. One thousand and seventeen township assessors have one thousand and seventeen different ideas of values, and in addition, each township assessor feels under obligation to see that his constituents are not over assessed, as compared with the constituents of other township assessors.

County boards of review are suspicious of each other and each seeks to keep the assessment of its county as low as the neighboring counties. With all of these conflicting influences, the wonder is that we get as fair an assessment as we do, and we wish here to acknowledge our appreciation of the services of township and county assessors and boards of review, as being a great deal better than the State has any right to expect considering the meagre salaries paid, the time within which the work must be done, and the temptation and influences to which assessors are always subjected.

Since the act was passed establishing the office of county assessor, there has been a marked improvement in uniformity of assessments and the sequestering of property has been made more hazardous and difficult.

During the year 1911, the various county assessors of the State discovered and placed upon the tax duplicates the enormous total of $12,621,906.50 worth of sequestered personal property. We cannot commend too highly the efficiency of the present county assessors. They form the connecting link between the State Tax Board and the township assessors and boards of review.

Believing as we do, that under the present system the fair and equitable distribution of the burden of taxes depends largely upon the efficiency of the administrative machinery, this board is endeavoring to secure coöperation among assessors by frequent conferences.

In January of each year, a meeting of all the county assessors is held at the capitol at which the work of the previous year is reviewed and work of the coming year is mapped out. Immediately afterwards district meetings are held where local conditions are more closely studied, and after the district meetings, county meetings are held at which all township assessors are expected to attend and at which a member of the State Board and the county assessor are present and instruct the township assessors in their duties.

MARION COUNTY.

In some counties it has been demonstrated that the present machinery is inadequate to do the work required by law. Under the Act of 1903, p. 49, the Board of Review of Marion County, is in session forty-five days. It is the duty of that board to assess all corporations except those assessed by the State Tax Board; to pass upon mortgage exemptions; to equalize all classes of property as between the various townships; add omitted property; hear appeals from assessments by township assessors and correct all errors in the names of persons and descriptions of property.

The number of corporations in Marion County is so large that it is necessary for the Board of Review to hear evidence, examine and assess on an average of eighty corporations a day during the entire session of the board, in addition to passing upon 13,000 mortgage exemptions, hearing appeals and equalizing assessments.

It needs no argument to convince one that the performance of such an amount of work in the manner contemplated by law, is an impossibility. As the Board of Review cannot begin its work until the assessing season is over and must finish its work in time for the State Tax Board to hear appeals and equalize in July, it is evident that the session of the board cannot be extended.

It has been suggested by the county assessor and auditor of Marion County, that a law providing that the two appointive members of the board shall begin their duties January 1st of each year, whose duty it shall be to gather information by personal investigation and otherwise, of such matters as come under the jurisdiction of the board and prepare the same for the use of the board upon its convening, would, in a measure at least, aid the board in dispatching its business with intelligence and some degree of accuracy.

LAKE COUNTY.

Under the act of 1911, p. 305, assessors in townships having a population of more than 5,000 and less than 20,000, receive $200 per year and $25 per year additional for each thousand up to 20,000, while assessors in townships having a population of more than 20,000 and less than 75,000 receive not less than $800 nor more than $1,500 a year, the amount to be determined by the board of commissioners. Populations to be reckoned according to the last census.

According to the census of 1910, Calumet Township, Lake County, which contains the city of Gary, had a population of 17,982 and Gary had a population of 16,802. Since that census was taken it is a matter of common knowledge that Gary has made tremendous strides in population and material wealth. Owing to its rapid growth, the frequent platting of new additions, the multiplication of business enterprises and the presence of some of the greatest manufacturing institutions in the world, a full and fair assessment would be a work of great difficulty and requiring the highest integrity and ability under the most favorable circumstances.

As shown by the assessment abstract of 1912, Gary has nearly 27,000 lots and over $16,000,000 of taxable property, exclusive of the assessments made by the State Tax Board. Gary is remote from Crown Point, the county seat, and as a consequence the local assessor is burdened with multitudinous complaints and inquiries the year round. He receives under the present law, the munificent salary of $500 a year. He would be underpaid at $1,500.

INHERITANCE TAX.

We earnestly recommend the enactment of an inheritance tax law. All but ten States of the Union now have such a law. Of all revenue producing laws it is the least burdensome because the tax is not collected from the owner of property but is deducted in transit to him, and it is most just because it is not taken from the one creating the estate, but from those contributing little or nothing to its creation. With proper exemptions it works no hardships, but instead tends to equalize wealth and prevent swollen fortunes which are a menace to society and frequently injure those who inherit them.

Legislation upon this subject has now been worked out to a basis of abstract justice. Lack of interstate comity formerly worked great injustice in some instances, but through the efforts of the National Tax Association, a model inheritance tax law has been worked out and forms the basis of many of the laws now in existence.

We recommend this law as a model or basis for any law upon the subject that you may enact.

This board has no data which would enable it to estimate the probable revenue to be derived from such a law, but from the experience of other States the income from such source adds materially to the revenues of the State.

EXEMPTIONS.

Notwithstanding the mandate of the constitution that all property shall be taxed, "exempting such only, for municipal, educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes, as may be specially exempted by law," there is at each session of the General Assembly a persistent effort made to secure exemptions either by direct legislation, or indirectly, by making the discovery and assessment of taxable property more difficult.

Of the first class are the exemption of Greek letter fraternities, municipal and gravel road bonds, mortgage indebtedness, members of fire companies from the payment of city or corporation taxes on $500 worth of property, and of the second class are building and loan associations.

The mortgage exemptions in Marion County alone amounted to over $6,500,000 in 1911. We have no statistics as to gravel road and municipal bonds, but the amount runs into the millions.

In 1911 (Acts 1911, p. 394), the General Assembly exempted building and loan associations as such from taxation and provided that the holders of shares of stock on which loans had not been made should be assessed thereon individually. This amounted practically to an exemption of the shares of stock, as no method was provided whereby assessors might ascertain who the owners of shares were, and the holders of such shares fail to list them for taxation.

As such associations have a combined capital of $50,000,000 it can readily be seen it constitutes an important item of taxable property and greatly adds to the burden of the assessor in his efforts to make an honest and full assessment of property.

TAX LITIGATION.

Differences arising over the construction of the tax laws has caused some litigation since our last report. In 1911, the General Assembly amended the act concerning the assessment of express companies by the State Tax Board. The Adams Express Company, being dissatisfied with the assessment of this board, as made in 1912, applied to the United States Court of Appeals for an injunction restraining the collection of the assessment, but the law was upheld and the action of the board vindicated, and the application was denied.

In 1911, the Board of Review of Vanderburgh County, assessed The Peoples Savings Bank of Evansville, on cash in hand in the sum of $21,000. Upon appeal to this board the action of the board of review was sustained and this board assessed the further sum of $215,000 on surplus to said bank. The bank thereupon applied for and secured from the Circuit Court of Vanderburgh County a permanent injunction against the auditor and treasurer of said county, restraining them from attempting to collect the taxes on such assessment. An appeal was taken to the Appellate Court by the auditor and treasurer and such appeal is now pending. The point involved is an important one because the savings bank has a large amount of deposits, competes directly with other banks in Evansville, which pay taxes upon their capital stock, and yet claims to be exempt from taxation except upon its real estate.

COAL LANDS.

The assessment of coal lands has become the subject of a controversy which has assumed serious importance to what is known as the "coal group" of counties in the southwestern part of the State. In Board of Commissioners of Greene County v. Latta Creek Coal Company, decided by the Appellate Court, December 18, 1911, it was held that coal veins could not be assessed separately but constituted a part of the real estate. The Attorney-General appeared on behalf of the State and is now seeking to have the decision of the Appellate Court reviewed. The "coal" counties derive a large part of their revenues from the assessment of coal lands, and if the decision of the Appellate Court should be affirmed by the Supreme Court, there should be some new legislation at once to take care of the situation.

TERMS OF ASSESSORS.

Prior to 1911, the terms of county assessors and township assessors expired at alternate general elections, thus always retaining in office one or the other set of assessors, with at least two years' experience. In 1911 the General Assembly extended the terms of township assessors so that they would expire the first Monday in November, 1914. This makes the terms of both county and township assessors expire just before the quadrennial assessment of real estate, thus introducing new and inexperienced county assessors as well as township assessors at the beginning of the most important assessment of the four years period.

We do not see how this situation can be remedied except by the extension of the terms of county assessors, so that they will expire in 1916.

DELINQUENT TAXES.

The following comparative statement shows the amount of delinquent taxes for the four-year period ending January 1, 1912:

January 1, 1909.....	$2,726,643 52
January 1, 1910.....	2,756,307 60
January 1, 1911.....	2,459,688 45
January 1, 1912.....	2,281,140 13

While there has been a decrease in each of the last two years, the board intends to give the subject a thorough investigation to ascertain what proportion of the amount so reported is collectible.

Section 10411 Burns R. S. 1908, provides that annually in November, before delinquencies of former years are carried upon the duplicate it shall be the duty of the auditor and treasurer to review and carefully examine the list of delinquencies, and to leave off all those which are uncollectible. This has not been done in many counties and as a result a large proportion of the amount of the delinquencies reported from year to year is composed of stale charges which only encumber the record.

STATEMENT OF TAXABLES.

In addition to the tables showing the total collection of taxes, abstracts of duplicates by counties and townships, appended hereto we also present herewith a comparative statement of the total taxables for the different classes of property for the years 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912.

It will be noted that there has been but a slight increase in the personal property assessment from year to year. This is due largely to loss sustained on building and loan shares, municipal and gravel road bonds exempted by law, and loss on taxable farm products.

The taxable values of real estate and improvements are gross, and from the same must be deducted the mortgage exemptions which in 1911 amounted to $58,547,355.

The statistics on exemptions for 1912 are not complete, but probably slightly exceed those for 1911.

The losses in taxables suffered by reason of various kinds of exemptions amount annually to an enormous sum, and demonstrate the necessity of strictly adhering to the constitutional mandate to assess all property, excepting only those mentioned which are exempted because of public policy.
